Introducing

Golmar has always spearheaded modernisation by offering innovative systems and products with high aesthetic standards, with the focus to communicate and protect. Golmar applies advanced technologies into their systems. Installers and end users enjoy the countless features that these systems offer.

Various technologies are available in Golmar's product range:

GB2 "GB2" is the newest 2 wire digital BUS. A system specially developed for medium size buildings of up to 256 apartments and provides outstanding features: intercom facility, connection to GSM telephone, picture memory and more using the new Vesta and Pentha hands free monitors iPlus "iPlus" is a full IP digital system that allows connection of door panels and monitors by using a new or existing LAN infrastructure. Monitors and panels are connected with a simple RJ-45 connector from a PoE switch. Intercom facilities, image memory and message broadcast service are just a few of the multiple features of

Plus Our best selling "Plus" digital BUS affords connection over 3 wires + coax or 4 wires + twisted pair (CAT5) for video systems, or 4 wires for audio only systems. Connect up to 255,000 monitors or handsets over 255 buildings with unlimited access per building! And all without switching units.

4+n Traditional 4+n and 2 wire audio systems are also available in the range.

All of the technologies offer a choice of entrance panel finish; aluminium or stainless steel. The steel modular range enabling Vandal Resist "off the shelf" solutions.
